A Square Deal

Is assured when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formulas are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests and while potent to cure are perfectly harmless even to the most delicate woman and children. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better tonic is used both for the treatment and preserving the medicinal principles used in them. It is a pure, refined glycerine. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own, being a most valuable antiseptic and antiferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's family medicines. It is the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels. Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchitis, throat and lung affections, except consumption in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs, which if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.

MRS. THAW'S DIVORCE SUIT.

Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw, through her counsel, Delano Reilly, will file suit in the Supreme Court of New York today for the annulment of her marriage with Harry K. Thaw, now in Matamoras State Hospital for the criminal insane, on the grounds that he was insane, on April 4, 1906, the date of her marriage with him. When the case comes to trial, and it will be contested, according to the word of A. Russell Peabody, Thaw's attorney in the action, Evelyn Thaw will take the stand in her own right to testify against her husband.

The announcement of Evelyn Thaw's determined action was made last night by Dan O'Reilly, after a brief consultation with Mr. Peabody.

According to Mr. O'Reilly, the coolness between Harry Thaw and his wife began during the middle of Thaw's first trial for murder. It became more and more strained during Thaw's incarceration in the Tombs between his two trials, and when he was again called before the bar this year Evelyn Thaw went through her part in testifying for him out of some sense other than undivided affection. This breach was in no sense due to the aloofness between the prisoner's family and his wife, said O'Reilly, but it was a personal matter between Harry Thaw and Evelyn Thaw which could not be made public.

"If they are not reconciled at the last minute," said O'Reilly, "the cause of the trouble between them will be explained in due time."

TO PRAY FOR HUSBANDS.

In a circular letter addressed to the rectors of his diocese Bishop Colton, of Buffalo, N. Y., urges all the unmarried spinsters of marriageable age to pray to God to send them suitable partners. The letter was read in all the Catholic churches of Buffalo at all services last Sunday.

After impressing on all his parishioners that it is the sacred duty of all who do not intend to enter holy orders to get married, the bishop urges that they conscientiously consider the proposition and pray for divine guidance. The bishop's action is in pursuance of the following recently promulgated by Pope Pius X:

"It is timely to remark that persons of marriageable age, and who feel no vocation to the religious life, should conscientiously consider the advisability and the duty of entering the married state (for duty it surely is for the larger part of the human family), and for this reason they should pray God to send them suitable partners and direct them in their choice, for matrimony is a sacrament and brings the blessings of God on those receiving it in the state of grace and who live in it in a Christian manner."

PARALYZED FROM DANCING.

With the lower part of her body paralyzed from excessive dancing, Miss Mary Osler, twenty-six years old, of Williamsburg, N. Y., is a patient in the Eastern District Hospital. She was taken there early Sunday from a hall. On Saturday night she attended an entertainment, followed by a dance, and for three hours she whirled around the floor. When the band struck up another waltz Miss Osler tried to rise from her seat. She was unable to move and became hysterical.

A call for an ambulance was sent to the Eastern District Hospital, and when Dr. Ogden, the surgeon, examined the young woman he found her legs were paralyzed. Her condition caused a lot of excitement in the hall. Several girls fainted and were treated by the ambulance surgeon.

The hospital physicians were puzzled over the young woman's condition. An examination convinced them that it was brought on through an injury to her spine due to excessive dancing. She is in such a nervous state the doctors fear she may not recover.

EGG MEASURED 9 INCHES.

Miss Rebecca Showalter, the daughter of Jacob Showalter, near Port Republic, went out to the hen house the other evening to gather the eggs and found to her surprise something unusual in the shape of a monster egg lying in one of the nests. It measured nine inches around in one way and seven and a half the other. When broken it was found that the big egg contained the usual white and yolk, and, in addition, another egg of ordinary size, shell and all. A peculiarity of the compound egg is the fact that both ends were shaped alike. It weighed about half a pound. — [Harrisonburg News.]

THE QUESTION.

The question of the hour is not, "How many cards?" nor "Whatcha got?" Nor "What's yours?" nor "Will you be a true and loving wife to me?" The question is not of weather, not if it is cold or if it is hot. Enough for you, nor of your ills. Not of your sins, not of your bills. The question is not, "How old is Ann?" Not a new and better plan. The gods may still hold on their knees And we'll not care, nay, not at all; Nor when we'll start to playing ball; The question is—It's the real thing: "Can we make this suit last till spring?" —Houston Post.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, MAR. 11, 1908.

OPPOSITION TO THE Aldrich currency bill among independent republicans of the Senate and House is assuming the form of open revolt against the leaders in both houses. Ten republican senators, it is said, have banded themselves together to defeat the provision making railroad bonds a basis of currency issues. They need six more senators to make possible the formation of a majority of the Senate through an alliance with the democrats. The six will be found, the leaders of the independent movement assert. In the House, the effort started by Representative Hayes, of California, to take the committee on rules away from the Speaker and give the House the power to elect it, is now known to be directed against the Aldrich bill, and intended to prevent the measure from being jammed through by the Speaker and the present committee on rules, without allowing decent opportunity for discussion and amendment. A split in the party in both houses is becoming so serious that a second appeal has been made to the President to interfere in behalf of harmony and legislation.

IT WOULD hardly seem probable that the poor people, impoverished by republican policies, would be able to reduce the amount of coal they burn. It is reported, however, that the soft coal trust is only doing about half of its usual business, and the anthracite trust is producing one-third more than it can sell. Still the coal trusts do not reduce the price of coal or the railroads reduce their exorbitant rates for carrying it. Another instance that the boasted republican "trust-busting" is a failure.

THE tariff tax on boots and shoes is 25 per cent, which tax on necessities a republican Congress refuses to abolish, although Mr. W. L. Douglas, of Massachusetts, just before he was elected governor declared that a majority of the New England shoe manufacturers were willing to forego this protection, if Congress would give them free hides. Governor Douglas is the largest manufacturer of shoes in the United States, and says the tariff is hindering the export trade of this country.

THE new arbitration treaty with France has been ratified by the Senate and President Roosevelt has been forced to backdown from his position that, the President should be given the power to submit questions to arbitration on his own initiative and without the consent of the Senate as provided in the constitution.

THE employees in a considerable number of New England mills and factories were yesterday put on a short time basis and in the next few weeks many more mills are expected to take similar action. This is not a very encouraging outlook.

EXPERIMENTS with magnesium, according to Professor A. G. Mayer, of the Carnegie Institution, show that it will restore the vital spark when life seems to all intents and purposes to be extinct.

From Washington.

Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.
Washington, D. C., March 11.
Years after his death, the U. S. Supreme Court was asked today to fix a price on the eloquence of Col. Robert J. Ingersoll, the great infidel. Mrs. Eva A. Ingersoll, his widow, is attempting to collect $100,000 as a fee alleged to have been due Ingersoll for his work in the famous Andrew J. Davis will case. Davis was one of the richest men of the west when he died. An attempt was made to break his will and Ingersoll was employed for that purpose. A compromise was effected after one trial, but Ingersoll failed to get his fee.

The Atlantic fleet will arrive at San Francisco March 7. The Pacific fleet will arrive there May 6, and the grand review of both fleets, under command of Rear Admiral Evans, will be made by Secretary of the Navy Metcalf, on May 8, according to announcement made by the Navy Department today. Upon the completion of record practice at Magdalena bay, Evans' fleet will proceed to San Diego, thence to Santa Barbara, San Pedro, Santa Cruz and San Francisco, and will be tendered at each place.

The rapidity with which the vessels that are to form the nucleus for a new Atlantic fleet are approaching completion, at which time they will be put into commission as full fledged fighting ships is indicated in the report of progress on vessels under construction issued by the Navy Department today. The ships within a few points of the one hundred mark in the percentage of completion include two battleships, two armored cruisers, three scout cruisers, and one submarine.

The Chamber of Commerce, by a unanimous vote, last night went on record in favor of the Harvey resolution, which protests against prohibition in this city or any changes in the existing liquor regulations.

At a public hearing given by the Finance committee of the District of Columbia today on the Sims bill for prohibition in the national capital, the prohibition advocates raised such a disturbance that Chairman Smith, of the committee, gave notice that he would end the hearing if the disturbance occurred again. Members of the committee indicated by their questions and remarks that they will not report a prohibition bill.

As anticipated, the House committee on military affairs reported favorably yesterday Representative Carlin's bill authorizing the Secretary of War to have constructed a direct road leading from the southern end of the new highway bridge across the Potomac river to the national cemetery at Arlington and Fort Myer.

"Pembulating bookmaking," as it is conducted at the Benning race track, was today decided by Judge Stafford to be within the law and consequently large numbers of bookmakers will be on hand at the spring meeting, which begins on March 28.

Senator Heyburn today introduced a resolution calling upon the Attorney General for information as to whether the Northern Pacific Railroad has complied in all particulars with the terms of the charter and if not, why the charter should not be repealed.

Payment by the government of $1,000,000 to ex-slaves of the South and their heirs was asked today of the House Committee on Banking and Currency by representatives of the Freedom Savings and Trust Company.

More of the conventions to carry into effect the conclusions of the recent peace conference at The Hague were today reported favorably from the Senate committee on foreign relations.

Sixtieth Congress.

Washington, Mar. 11. SENATE.
The President got to the Senate this afternoon before the committee on military affairs could report on its Brownsville investigation. He sent a letter to the Senate suggesting the passage of a law which will allow discharged negro soldiers of the 25th Infantry to re-enlist in the army if they produce satisfactory evidence that they were not concerned in the Brownsville raid.

After an exhaustive inquiry of over a year, the military affairs committee of the Senate today, formerly reported report signed by Senator Scott, and another signed by Messrs. Foraker and Burkeley alone, which completely vindicates the soldiers of charges made against them, and recommending legislation for the restoration to them of all the rights of which they have been deprived.

The majority report finds that the shooting up of Brownsville "was done by some of the soldiers belonging to the 25th Infantry" but that the testimony "is insufficient to identify the particular soldier or soldiers."

The passing of a law is recommended for re-enlistment of innocent negro soldiers in accordance with the wishes of the President and submits a bill, stating "that it is reasonable to believe that all the soldiers were not concerned in the commission of the crime, either as principals or accessories."

All the reports were read and Mr. Foraker announced that he would later discuss the matter at some length.

Mr. Aldrich announced this afternoon during a financial debate, that he believed the Senate would not accept that provision of his bill giving the Secretary of the Treasury and the Comptroller of the Currency discretion in the matter of retiring currency, but that the present law, fixing the retirement at $9,000,000 monthly, would be retained.

All efforts today in the House to increase the salaries of postal employees met with defeat. Attempts to amend the postoffice appropriation bill so as to provide for the increases were voted down.

Mr. Acheson introduced a bill providing for the military service preference shall hereafter be given in promotions and in important details to total abstainers.

Today's Telegraphic News.
Mysterious Shooting.
Boston, Mar. 11.—Two young women were found shot to death this morning at the fashionable Laurier school. One of them, a Miss Weede, escaped last night from a sanitarium in Newton and fled to the school where her friend, a Miss Hardee, agreed to care for her during the night. This morning the school nurse heard two shots in the room and when the door was burst open both women were found dead. All information regarding the identity of the dead women is carefully guarded at the school. The police theory is a homicide, but there is another story that one of the women killed her friend and then shot herself.

The police say that the woman who did the shooting was Miss Sarah Chamberlain Weede, and that her husband, whom she killed before herself committing suicide, was Miss Elizabeth Bailey Hardee. Miss Weede lived in Philadelphia and Miss Hardee in East Savanah, Ga. Each was in the thirties and had been studying at the Laurier school. Miss Hardee was an instructor in mathematics and recently had been teaching in Vermont. Miss Weede had also been teaching in various sections of the country, and last summer they opened a fashionable boarding school. On the day the school opened Miss Weede broke down as the result of overwork and was taken to a sanitarium.

Because the revolver was found clutched in Miss Weede's hands and through the reports of her unmettle mental condition the police believe that she shot Miss Hardee and then killed herself.

The Thaw Divorce Case.
New York, Mar. 11.—Before night the long anticipated suit will have been instituted by Evelyn Nesbit Thaw for the annulment of her marriage to Harry K. Thaw according to statements made by Dan O'Reilly, attorney for Evelyn, and a Russell Peabody, Thaw's counsel.

The ground for the suit is that Thaw was insane at the time of the marriage in Pittsburgh, April 4, 1905.

In bringing the suit, Evelyn, according to today's reports, has arranged for her own future in a financial way. A settlement of $50,000 will be made to her, it is said, at once, and when the suit is ended an annuity of $15,000 will be paid to her. Mrs. William Thaw, Harry's mother, is reported to have agreed upon this financial settlement.

Harry Thaw is determined to fight the suit to the bitter end this promises to make the hearing a complicated one. Mrs. William Thaw, as "next of kin," she will do all in her power, although a nominal defendant, to assist Evelyn's suit.

Papers were served on Thaw in the State Asylum at Mattawan and on his mother at the Hotel Lorraine soon after noon today by representatives of the younger Mrs. Thaw's lawyer, Daniel O'Reilly. The complaint is of the briefest character and simply recites that he is insane prior to the marriage and has been so continually ever since. O'Reilly denies the report that Mrs. Thaw is to have $50,000 settled upon her and that she is to receive $15,000 a year for life.

China and Japan.
Tokio, March 11.—It is positively known, despite diplomatic denial, that England is bringing pressure to bear to prevent a clash between Japan and China over the Tatsu Maru affair.

The British suggestions are embarrassing the Tokio foreign office, too, and it is said they are not being taken in very good part. That matters have not progressed far enough to warrant the English in demanding full information, under the terms of the Anglo-Japanese treaty is admitted. England knows unofficially what is doing, however, and is plainly not over pleased with the outlook.

It is undoubtedly true that the correspondence between London and Tokio has not yet taken an official form, but a plain hint has been given that the English government favors arbitration of the Tatsu incident.

There are indications that the Tokio foreign office has been influenced by these representations between the two countries.

An undercurrent of anti-English has been developing for some time both in Japanese official and commercial circles. There is no prospect of a break between the two governments, but the cordiality, which marked the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese treaty, is rapidly diminishing.

More War Talk.

St. Petersburg, Mar. 11.—The closing of the Turkish embassy at Teheran and the abrupt departure—almost the flight—of Ambassador Chermu Dim Bey for Constantinople has been followed by an immediate renewal of war talk concerning Turkish doings along the Persian frontier.

It is said the Sultan intends to demand satisfaction from the shah for the recent attack on his Teheran embassy and the letters the ambassador has been receiving threatening his assassination.

Turkish troops are again trespassing on the Persian side of the international boundary—with the Sultan's approval, it is believed here. Yesterday's departure of two steamships from Olesha with two battalions of the Fifty-sixth Russian infantry and quantity of munitions destined for an unnamed Caucasus port is interpreted as having been ordered in anticipation of Russo-Turkish friction.

Big Fire in Rochester.

Rochester, N. H., Mar. 11.—Close to $200,000 loss was caused by a fire which started in the Dodge block in the heart of the business district late last night and burned until three o'clock this morning. Sparks from the blaze were carried by the high wind a mile away, and more than thirty buildings were set afire. Occupants were alerted, however, and the fire was extinguished with pails of water and garden hose. At one time the whole central part of the town seemed doomed, and Mayor Bradley called for aid from other towns. Before the fire started was entirely consumed and several others were slightly damaged.

Victims of Automobile Accident.
Philadelphia, Mar. 11.—Anthony J. Drexel, Jr., son of A. J. Drexel, and Benjamin Parker, of Pittman, N. J., all prominent socially were injured in an automobile accident early today, a touring car, in which they and three other young men were riding crashed into another automobile while returning from the suburbs. The young men were badly cut about the face and head by flying glass, while Parker may be injured internally.

Madame Gould.
Cherbourg, France, Mar. 11.—It is stated here that Mme. Gould has arranged to sail for New York with her three children on the liner Adriatic at 5 p. m. The children are expected on the White Star boat train due here from Paris at 3 o'clock. Mme. Gould is coming by automobile. She telegraphed reserving two rooms in a local hotel for last night. Nothing is known in Cherbourg concerning Prince Helio de Sagan's movements.

Alfonso in Barcelona.
Barcelona, Mar. 11.—King Alfonso is a guest aboard the flagship of the Austrian war fleet in the harbor here this evening. The city has not only been orderly but enthusiastic in its greeting to the young ruler. His majesty himself wielded a trowel yesterday at the inauguration of the street improvements just beginning in the city and attended a gala performance in his honor at the opera house last night.

Death of Former Congressman.

Chicago, Mar. 11.—Former Congressman Allen C. Durbow died early today at the Robert Burns Hospital after an illness that had confined him to his bed for months. Mr. Durbow was best known for the political battles he waged with William L. Gurnea, in 1903, for a seat in the House. He was elected to Congress over ex-Senator William M. Mason by 106 votes in 1906. He was born in Pennsylvania in 1857.

New York Stock Market.

New York, March 11.—The market was decidedly irregular in its trading and price movements during the first hour, but a generally firm tone developed and at the end of the period a number of stocks showed fair gains. The business was unevenly distributed, only a few showing any animation, the bulk of the issues are generally regarded as active neglected and without future. The Washington dispatches in regard to the favorable attitude of the administration toward advances in freight rates has an immediate bullish influence on the market and was followed by heavy buying and bidding up of many stocks. Prices a short interval before noon made gains from 1 to 2 points.

City Council.

The City Council was in session about an hour last night.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.
Mr. Field, from the committee on general laws, to whom a resolution inquiring into the validity of the position of Police Justice had been referred, submitted an opinion of Mr. S. B. Fisher, Corporation Attorney, that officer stating that the position was legal and in accordance with the State laws.

A number of queries were propounded by the members of the board concerning the difference between the powers of a justice of the peace and a police justice, as heretofore the Mayor of the city had presided in the Police Court. The charter of the city clothes the Mayor with the powers of a justice of the peace and not those of a police justice. The opinion was received.

Mr. Sweeney submitted a resolution appropriating $350 to aid the relief committee of the Associated Charities in their work. He also read a letter from the secretary of the organization. The resolution was passed.

Mr. Field presented an ordinance (which is a copy of the State law) making it a misdemeanor for any one to promote, manage or draw a lottery or raffle, or to sell or exchange a chance or ticket under a maximum penalty of $500 and a three months' term in jail.

Mr. Field said the object of the law was to put such fines in the city treasury. At present, under a city warrant, a fine of only $20 could be imposed.

The ordinance was referred to the committee on general laws.

Mr. Ballenger offered a resolution appropriating $25 to replace a sign in the north Hydrant engine house on north Royal street and to paint the front doors. He spoke in advocacy of the resolution, and said that eventually the building would have to be used to house the old Columbia engine, as it was not in a satisfactory place at present.

The resolution was passed, but the Common Council returned it non-concurred in, that board having referred it to the committee on public property.

The Aldermen, on motion of Mr. Ballenger, adjourned to their action, and Messrs. Ballenger and Field were appointed a committee of conference. The committee on reported that they were unable to get the committee from the lower board to recede from their action, and the Aldermen laid the resolution on the table.

Mr. Ballenger, in commenting on the action of the Common Council, said the committee from the Aldermen had been treated with scant courtesy by the lower board when it appeared before that body and asked for a conference.

The report of the finance and light committees, recommending that the petition of Capt. Murphy and Lieutenants Demaine and May asking that a gas bill against Armory Hall be remitted, was received from the Common Council.

President Curtin was opposed to concurring in the action of the Common Council. As he understood it, the Alexandria Light Infantry would not be benefited by this action. The fire district Armory Hall from the company and then submit it. All money received in excess of that paid the company was the officers' profit. There was no more reason to furnish gas free to them than to others running shows or other entertainments.

Messrs. Summers, Ballenger and Maury viewed the matter in the same light. The latter said much gas had been used in the hall during the winter, and recently gas stoves had been in operation, and there was no telling what the next bill would be.

Mr. Sweeney said the free gas proposition was becoming more serious all the time. The bill of the Light Infantry this year was $140, but last year it was $120. He moved to recommit the petition to the committees, which was carried.

Several of the Aldermen said they appreciated the services of the command, and were ready to aid in any reasonable way, but the officers only would be benefited by the action.

The Aldermen concurred in the action of the Common Council on all the other papers which came in, and shortly before nine o'clock adjourned.

COMMON COUNCIL.

What looked like a tame meeting of Council at the outset became rather spirited before the close, nearly all the members present taking some part in the proceedings.

The first business was the report of the committee on light on a resolution referred to them January 28, regarding the payment of a gas bill incurred by the Alexandria Light Infantry in which the committee recommended the payment of the bill.

Mr. Leadbeater moved the adoption of the report.

The President called Mr. Uhler to the chair and referring to his membership of a military company when a young man said he did not want to appear in a role antagonistic to the Alexandria Light Infantry. He acknowledged their usefulness to the community, spoke of the services rendered as a reserve police force and said they should be encouraged. But, he said, he would not see an appropriation of $150 made directly from the general fund to be paid by the company in the payment of the gas bill. He was of the opinion that the whole people should pay for that which benefited the public and did not see why this debt should be saddled on the gas consumer. He insisted that if the report of the committee was adopted the whole burden of this bill would fall on a few instead of the many. He contended that many people insisted on having cheaper gas, and if such were the case, it would be used for cooking, heating, etc., but if the city was compelled to give away a large part of its output every year the day of cheaper gas was far distant.

Mr. Uhler said it was the idea of the committee to pay this bill and when the next revenue bill was made up to put in a specific sum for the organization, with the understanding if they exceeded this they would have to pay the difference.

Mr. Snowden said he was opposed to the manner of appropriating the money—not the amount appropriated—and he referred to the carnival recently held at the armory and the skating rink, which were sources of profit to the armory people. He could not see why free gas to these or kindred amusements should be paid for by one class of people—the gas consumers. He said he would offer as a substitute that $150 be appropriated from the general fund to be used in the payment of the gas bill incurred by the Light Infantry for their drill, etc.

Mr. Leadbeater took issue with the President and said he did not think the gas consumer paid the bill—but the entire city—he thought it was merely a matter of bookkeeping.

Mr. Monroe agreed with Mr. Leadbeater in his contention.

Mr. Snowden contended that the gas consumers—and they alone—paid for the gas given away. He said the entire city should share in the expense.

Mr. Brill said a few years ago the city appropriated $50 yearly for gas for the armory. He had no knowledge of any change in the law.

Mr. Spinks said that as reference had been made to the Elks' Carnival in the use of the hall and that the remark was made that the committee would pay for the use of the gas on that occasion, as a member of the committee he had heard of no such arrangements, but he knew the Elks had paid quite a sum for the use of the armory. He further said that the skating rink was a great boon financially for the members of the A. L. I., for they had made many improvements since the rink had been opened. He hoped the report would be adopted as he would dislike to see any action dampening the ardor of the members of the Infantry. He contended that Armory Hall was an asset of the city.

Mr. Snowden said that that Armory Hall was not an asset and argued that the gas consumers should not be compelled to pay for gas used in a skating rink or in amusements which have no connection with the military.

Mr. Spinks said he did not want to appear as defending the skating rink nor use of gas, but he did appeal to the members to vote for the report of the committee in the interest of the company.

Mr. Leadbeater then read the last report of the Clerk of Gas, and still insisted that the remission of the bill or the appropriation of the money was just the same a matter of bookkeeping.

Mr. Snowden asked Mr. Leadbeater where the profits of the gas works came from.

Mr. Leadbeater—From the gas consumers.

Mr. Snowden asked Mr. Leadbeater if a proposition had not been introduced to reduce the price of gas, and insisted that if there was not so much of the product of the gas works given away, without restriction, the price could be reduced.

Mr. Marshall having entered the chamber late asked to have the subject matter read—which was done—and Mr. Marshall went on to say that the whole people were interested in the Alexandria Light Infantry, and that they were our reserve police force to be called on at any time. He did not care how the company received the money—just so the bill was paid.

Mr. Spinks was opposed to the appropriation of $150 from the general fund for the use of the company—he insisted they could do what they wished with it, even take a trip to a seaside resort. He hoped the report of the committee would prevail.

Mr. Uhler referred to other institutions which received free gas, to which Mr. Snowden replied that the entire people should pay for this gas also.

Mr. Harrison asked if the $150 paid up to the first of the fiscal year. He said he agreed with Mr. Snowden and thought that there should be a limit to such uses of gas—and the only way to make such limit was to have the appropriation come from the general fund. He wanted to help the infantry, but was opposed to a bill for gas that was supposed to benefit the whole people charged up to the gas consumer alone. He said others who were receiving gas free burned it too lavishly.

The amendment offered by Mr. Snowden was then placed before the body and was lost—aye 5, noes 7.

The report of the committee was then adopted and Mr. Snowden resumed the chair.

(The recorded vote appears in the official proceedings.)

Resolution requesting the Corporation Attorney to report to Council on the right of the city to construct a sewer on south Royal street, south of Franklin, was adopted.

A petition was granted James H. Mansfield to erect a corrugated iron shed at 517 King street, providing there was no objection on the part of adjoining property owners.

Permission to extend a shed over premises 506 Queen street to connect with 508 was granted E. C. Roberts.

A resolution in regard to street car service in this city which was sent to the Board of Aldermen at the last meeting was non-concurred in by the upper board and referred to the committee on streets—which action of the upper board was concurred in by this board.

A resolution adopted by the Board of Aldermen appropriating $25 to improve the old Hydrant engine house, came in from the Aldermen, having been adopted by that body.

Mr. Marshall moved its reference to the committee on public property, and said he was opposed to the appropriation as it was a useless expenditure of money at this time. His motion prevailed.

The matter relating to Mr. Evans' resolution in regard to the legality of the position held by Police Justice Caton came in from the Aldermen, having been adopted by that board, and in deference to Mr. Evans who was absent, the matter went over till the next meeting.

The action of the Board of Aldermen appropriating $450 additional to the Associated Charities for the poor of the city was concurred in.

Mr. Burke read a list of the appropriations made by Council to the poor in the past several years which showed that the Associated Charities made the money go much farther than was the case under the old regime, and in deference to Mr. Marshall spoke of the falling off in rental of the fish wharf and said the condition of said wharf and the shalldown of the water in the docks at Fish town made it of little value to the renter. On his motion the committee on public property was instructed to examine into the condition of the wharf and the approaches thereto and report to Council. He said the low rental was caused by the conditions existing there.

An ordinance prohibiting gaming by lottery, chance, etc. to make the city conform with the State law, which had been referred to the committee on general laws by the Board of Aldermen, came in from that body and their action was concurred in.

The Board of Aldermen reported the non-concurrence of the board in the action of Council adopting the report of the committee on light in the matter of the gas bill of the Alexandria Light Infantry and referring it to the committee on finance and light.

The former action of the Council was reconsidered and that of the Board of Aldermen concurred in.

A resolution appropriating $250 to improve the roadway on north Fairfax street from Oranoco to Montgomery was referred to the committee on streets.

The Aldermen announced their adherence to the proposition of appropriating $25 to improve the old Hydrant engine house and asked for a committee of conference and Messrs. Marshall and Harrison were appointed on the part of this board.

A resolution requesting Mayor Paff to notify the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway of the condition of the street on Cameron between Columbus and West, was referred to the committee on streets.

The action of the Board of Aldermen appropriating $1,000 to pay the bill for the hose from the Eureka Hose Company was concurred in.

Mr. Marshall reported that the committee on conference on the appropriation of $25 for the old Hydrant engine house had failed to agree—and the matter rested.

Mr. Hellmuth wanted to explain the condition of the fire escapes on the Peabody school building, but the President informed him that Council had no authority in the premises, the buildings being in charge of the school trustees, and the matter was dropped.

Mr. Marshall said he had been approached by a member of the school board committee on school houses and furniture, who had asked him to state to Council that his committee had not been derelict in the discharge of its duty in regard to the school buildings.

The Chair announced that in the near future he would offer a resolution to reduce the price of gas, even to cost price, but when this was done about $16,000 of revenue would have to be raised from some other taxable source. He insisted that the gas here was almost as cheap as anywhere in the country, and said the light committee had managed the gas work well. He added that the light committee felt aggrieved at "certain people" who criticized the committee.

Mr. Snowden disclaimed any intention of attempting to censure the light committee, but expressed his highest regards for its work.

Mr. Leadbeater said that the city was entitled to a profit on the city gas works and that the gas consumers should pay for it.

The Chair agreed that the city should receive a reasonable profit on its gas, but if it could afford to give away over $6,000 in gas every year and pay $15,000 into the city treasury, it could afford to reduce its cost.

Mr. Marshall asked as to the disposition of his resolution to employ an assistant to the Corporation Attorney in regard to the Henry street case. He would like to hear some report on the subject.

No other business appearing Council adjourned.

Official.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.
At a regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen of the city of Alexandria, Va., held March 10, 1908, there were present: J. R. N. Curtin, e. q., President, and Messrs. Brill, Marbury, Ballenger, Field, Sweeney and Summers.

The report of the Finance Committee on a communication from Mr. E. C. Roberts, Auditor, announcing the exhaustion of certain appropriations, received from the Common Council at the last meeting and laid over, was passed by the following vote: Ayes, five; Noes, none. Mr. President—7. Noes, none. The report recommended an appropriation of $2,750.

A communication from F. J. Paff, Mayor, in reply to a resolution of Council asking for information concerning the condition of the city of the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway, received from the Common Council at the last meeting, was read and their action concurred in, and the communication referred to the Committee on Streets.

Mr. Field, from the Committee on General Laws, to whom had been referred a resolution inquiring into the validity of the position of Police Justice of the City of Alexandria, presented an opinion of Mr. S. B. Fisher, Corporation Attorney, to the effect that the same is legal and in conformity with the State law. The resolution was referred to the Committee on General Laws.

MECHANICS FURLOUGHED.

Most of the mechanics who had been employed in the shops of the Southern Railway Company in this city have been furloUGHED, and only a corporal's guard is now at work. Numbers of men employed in the shops of the company at Manchester, Va., Spencer, N. C., Selma, Ala., and other places have been laid off. The action of the Southern Railway in reducing the force of workmen in all the machine shops of the road is due to decreased earnings of the road and to the rolling stock, which never needs repairs, according to a statement made in Washington last night by General Manager Akert. "It is an absolutely necessary proceeding," said Mr. Akert, "it is unusual, and we deeply regret the necessity for it, but we regard it as unavoidable. I cannot give you an idea of the number of men suspended, as reports have not yet come in. The order reducing the force takes effect in all the shops of the road."

FORFEITURE SET ASIDE.

As was stated in the Gazette, the bond of $250 given by Charles Chauncey for his appearance before the grand jury of the Corporation Court to answer the charge of failure to support his wife, was forfeited yesterday by his failure to appear. It seems, however, that the forfeiture was the result of an oversight, and with no intention on the part of Mr. Chauncey to remain away from court. It was understood at the time he gave the bond that he was to appear at the regular grand jury term in April, but the special grand jury summoned for the March Court was not anticipated by Mr. Chauncey nor his counsel, the latter being out of the city when the jury met. An agreement has been reached between the Commonwealth's Attorney and the counsel for the defense by which the forfeiture of the bond has been set aside and the same has been renewed for Mr. Chauncey's appearance next month.

AN OLD OFFENDER.

Chief Goods yesterday evening arrested John Sims, at the corner of King and West streets. Sims was completely knocked out—so drunk that he could not stand—and it was necessary to place him in a wagon in order to transport him to the station house. He was brought before the Police Court this morning when he pleaded guilty to the charge of intoxication in the street. He said he had abstained from whisky for five weeks, and drank some yesterday in the hope the liquor would cure the grip, but, unfortunately, he had taken an overdose. Sims promised to go fishing if he were released. Justice Oaton released him with the understanding that he would pay 25 cents for his ride to the station house, and that he would keep sober in future.

THE GRAND JURY.

As was stated in the Gazette, the jury of the Corporation Court was engaged yesterday afternoon in examining witnesses concerning the condition of city school houses and other public buildings in this city.

Among witnesses examined were Chief Goods, of the police department; Chief George W. Petter, of the fire department; City Engineer E. C. Dunn, and the members of the committee on school houses and furniture of the City School Board. About twelve witnesses were examined. The jury adjourned until Wednesday, the 18th instant, at 10 o'clock a. m., where the jury will meet at Peabody school building when the examination of witnesses will be resumed.

TO BE PUT IN COMMISSION.

The tugboat George W. Pride is to be put into commission again and will be employed in towing fish-laden lighters during the coming fishing season. The Pride underwent her annual inspection a few days ago at the hands of the United States steamboat inspection service officials, and while the inspection was a thorough one, the tug met the requirements of the steamboat regulations, and she will be licensed to resume towing on the river. The Pride was sold a few days ago by Capt. A. J. Fair to J. T. Seelman, of Occquan.

TO HONOR ELLSWORTH.

It has been suggested to the Commissioners of the District of Columbia that Sixteenth street, Washington, be changed to Ellsworth avenue as a tribute of respect to the memory of Colonel Elmer E. Ellsworth, who was killed by James T. Jackson in the Marshall House in this city early on the morning of May 24, 1861, after he had lowered a Confederate flag from the building. Colonel Ellsworth was a native of Saratoga county, New York. His remains are interred in Mechanicsville, in that State.

SENATE.

The House bill creating the fisheries commission, which passed the House several days ago, and on which there was disagreement in the Senate, was submitted to a conference committee. The committee reported in favor of the House view of the matter and the report of the committee was adopted. The bill creates the fisheries commission, gives the chairman $2,500 salary, the secretary $2,000, and requires them to devote their entire time to the duties of the office.

Senator Rison's bill, allowing cities and towns of the State to own public service corporations, and to allow them to issue bonds and borrow money for such purposes, was passed last night. There is a stipulation in the bill which requires that the provisions of the act shall not be carried out unless agreed to by a majority of the qualified voters of the city or town.

Among the bills of general interest that were passed and now go to the Governor for signature are the following:

To vest in railroad companies an insurable interest in property along its tracks.

The bill to prohibit the letting of contracts for printing for the Commonwealth to firms outside the State.

To establish a public free school on the grounds of the Prison Association of Virginia at Laurel, in Henrico county, and making an appropriation for erecting a building and for maintaining the school.

Among the important measures which passed the Senate yesterday afternoon was that introduced by Delegate Featherston, of Campbell, which repeals the law requiring 6 per cent. interest on taxes in addition to the 5 per cent. penalty charged for non-payment of the first year.

Other bills passed by the Senate were: Imposing a license tax on pilots and coal shippers.

Regulating the practice of pharmacy. Giving railroad companies an insurable interest in property along their routes.

Regulating the practice of veterinary surgery.

In relation to who are exempt from jury service.

Providing for the appointment of matrons for the jails in cities of over 10,000 inhabitants.

To amend section 3385 of the code so as to authorize the signing of bills of exception, either in term time or vacation.

To amend and re-enact section 3119 of the code of Virginia, giving jurisdiction of courts of counties and cities over water courses.

To provide for the payment of a license tax for the exhibition of an automatic moving-picture machine, phonograph, graphophone, or similar musical machine, when the price of admission to such exhibition does not exceed the sum of 10 cents.

HOUSE.

All previous plans as to method of procedure were cast to the winds in the House yesterday morning, when a resolution passed to allow the general assembly to consider other matters than the Blackstone case after the recess. The legislators will retire March 20.

A resolution previously passed, but which is now void, confined the House after its return to the Blackstone investigation, but the resolution yesterday not only allows the House to consider Senate bills and the Senate to consider House bills, but permits either branch of the assembly to proceed regularly with the calendar. The resolution requires the concurrence of the Senate and when it reached that body it was passed by without action.

The conference report on the general appropriation bill which passed the Senate Monday night, was yesterday rejected by the House. The Senate concurred in the rejection, and at 12:30 yesterday the two committees of the general assembly again went into conference to attempt to straighten out matters.

The House last night passed the general appropriation bill, by accepting the report of the joint conference committee, and finally settling the long-fought question of establishing two more normal schools, one in Harrisonburg and another in Fredericksburg. The announcement that the bill had passed was greeted with applause.

Now that the appropriation bill is passed there is little probability of any further important action by the legislature until the session is resumed March 25, after the recess.

A bill regulating the chain-gang act to make it conform to the new road law was passed, as was a bill prohibiting the carrying of concealed weapons, providing a penalty of $100 fine for violation and designating who are exempt from the requirements of the law.

The House also passed bills: To provide compulsory service of registrars and clerks of election in cities of over 50,000.

appropriation bill which passed the Senate Monday night, was yesterday rejected by the House. The Senate concurred in the rejection, and at 12:30 yesterday the two committees of the general assembly again went into conference to attempt to straighten out matters.

The House last night passed the general appropriation bill, by accepting the report of the joint conference committee, and finally settling the long-fought question of establishing two more normal schools, one in Harrisonburg and another in Fredericksburg. The announcement that the bill had passed was greeted with applause.

Now that the appropriation bill is passed there is little probability of any further important action by the legislature until the session is resumed March 25, after the recess.

A bill regulating the chain-gang act to make it conform to the new road law was passed, as was a bill prohibiting the carrying of concealed weapons, providing a penalty of $100 fine for violation and designating who are exempt from the requirements of the law.

The House also passed bills: To provide compulsory service of registrars and clerks of election in cities of over 50,000.

To direct how cities may vote on the issuance of bonds for public utilities.

FOUR MEN LYNCHED.

Dave Fox, Tom Ranston and two Jenkins brothers, all colored, were lynched at Van Cleave, Miss., 20 miles north of Moxi, Miss., by a mob of 30 men Tuesday night.

The men were in the custody of Deputy Sheriff Evans, of Jackson county, en route to jail, when the mob overtook them.

A series of incendiary fires, causing losses in charcoal, food stuffs and other supplies, incurred by the people of the vicinity. The four negroes confessed their guilt, when the mob took them from the deputy and all four were hanged to limbs of trees by the side of the road, where their bodies were found yesterday morning.

The immediate cause of the lynching was the burning of the warehouse of Sam Bord last Friday night, when it was said an attempt was made to waylay and rob Byrd, who conducts a store near Van Cleave.

Among the other warehouses burned in the vicinity are those of W. H. Westfall, about a month ago, and the Dantzler Lumber Company recently. The lynching was conducted in an orderly manner.

Forecasters' Gourmets.

"Scouse, or loch scouse, a parson's face seepie, junk, tack, slush and duff—there's a meal ye can't beat nowhere," said the sailor.

"Yes," he went on, "ye can talk about yer ris de veau, yer vol au vent, yer mousses and other French dishes, but they ain't none o' them in it with sea fare dished up by a good sea lawyer."

"Scouse is soup, soup made o' salt beef. Add some good sea vegetables to it, such as spud sprouts and split peas, and ye get an extra fine soup, which is generally called loch scouse. Pot au feu is slush beside a rich loch scouse."

"Foller up yer scouse with a parson's face sea pie. That's a pie made of bullock's head. Good? Why, friend, there ain't nothin' like it on earth."

"Junk is salt beef. Junk ain't no brain food. It don't strengthen the mind like a correspondence course, but, by far, I'd rather have it than caneton a la presse or a supreme de sole."

"Tack and slush is the sailor's bread and butter. What if ye do have to break yer tack with a tack hammer, and what if yer slush is sometimes strong enough to queer the compass? Sailors need strong food, for they must do their work."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Little Card Trick.

A Russian priest was so devoted to the amusement of card playing that he played up to the last moment before commencing the church services. On one occasion, having a particularly good hand dealt him, he thrust the cards into his pocket, intending to return and finish the game after the service. Unluckily the cards fell out on the church floor, to the extreme scandal of the congregation. The witty priest, however, was fully equal to the occasion. At the conclusion of the service he beckoned up one of the choristers and asked him the names of several of the cards, which the boy knew correctly. He then suddenly asked the lad the name of the next saint's day, which the child could not tell.

"See?" cried the priest, turning to the congregation. "You teach your children the names of every card in the pack and leave them ignorant of their religion. Let this be the last time I am compelled to bring playing cards into the church to shame you. And picking up his hand he made an honorable retreat.—London Answers.

Bible Blunders.

Some curious errors have crept into the Bible at various times, giving names to the editions containing them. Here are some instances: The "Unrighteous" Bible, from the misprint "the unrighteous" shall inherit the kingdom; the "Placemakers" Bible, "blessed are the placemakers" (peace-makers); the "Printers" Bible, "the printers" (for princes) have persecuted me; the "Treacle" Bible, "Is there no treacle" (balm) in Gilead? the "Vinegar" Bible, "the parasite of the vineyard" (changeling); the "Bug" Bible, "thou shalt not be afraid of bugs" (hobgoblins by night); the "Recreches" Bible, "they sewed fig leaves together and made themselves breeches"; the "Idle" Bible, "woe to the idle" (idiot), and finally the "Wooden Leg" Testament, so called from the frontispiece depicting Satan limping with a wooden leg.

Just a Fish Story.

We cannot refrain from recording the most curious capture of a fish that has come to our notice. The circumstance was retailed many years ago by Mr. Heathcote, one of the great authorities on the fens. A Mr. Richardson of Peterborough was skating on the dikes when the ice was very clear, and he noticed a large pike swimming in front of him. The fish was terrified by the apparition and swam in front of the skater until it stopped from sheer exhaustion. The skater broke the ice and took the fish with his hand, which proved to be a pike weighing twelve pounds. It is a story difficult even for a fisherman or a local historian to cap.—London Outlook.

Not Disturbed.

Nassau William Senior, the English political economist, was a frequent guest of Lord Lansdowne at Lansdowne House and on one occasion was busily writing, quite abstracted as usual, in a room full of company when Moore was singing "The scratch of his pen was not an agreeable accompaniment, and at last one of the company asked very politely, "You are not fond of music, Mr. Senior?" "No," he replied, "but it does not disturb me in the least. Pray go on."

Proving His Motive.

"Well, sir," exclaimed the philosopher, "what do you want this morning?"

"I've come again to ask for your daughter," said the poor but ambitious young man.

"Haven't I told you six times over on as many different days that it is out of the question? What do you mean by bothering me in this way? You are making a nuisance of yourself."

"If I seem to be more persistent than circumstances warrant, I must insist that you, sir, are to blame."

"Me!" shouted the indignant old man. "I don't understand you."

"There," said the man who loved his daughter as he pointed to a motto over the banker's desk, "is my excuse for coming here day after day. 'If at first you don't succeed, try, try, try again.' Do you believe in that sentiment, or have you put it up there simply to deceive people?"

After he had scratched his head awhile the mean old plutocrat said: "Yes, I believe in that. I haven't succeeded yet in making you understand that my daughter shall not become the wife of a fool, but I am going to keep on trying till I do. Good morning."

And that time he did it.—Strand Magazine.

What the Cat Had.

The teacher of the Sunday school class was telling the little boys about temptation, and showing how it sometimes came in the most attractive form. She used as an illustration the paw of a cat.

"Now," said she, "you have all seen the paw of a cat. It is as soft as velvet, isn't it?"

"Yes," from the class.

"And you have seen the paw of a dog?"

"Yes."

"Well, although the cat's paw seems like velvet, there is nevertheless something in it something that hurts. What is it?"

No answer.

"The dog bites," said the teacher, "when he is in anger. But what does the cat do?"

"Scratches," said a boy.

"Correct," said the teacher, nodding her head approvingly. "Now, what has the cat got that the dog hasn't?"

"Whiskers!" said a boy on the back seat.—Home Magazine.
